

I N T R O D U C T I O N

It is my privilege to introduce a former Fortune 100 executive who subscribes to the theory that “one size does not fit all.” Recognized as funny, irreverent and honest, our speaker is an authority on change management.

In addition to her brilliant speaking career, she is a prolific and accomplished writer, evidenced by her being a bestselling and award-winning author. Her book Blind Curves is a story of reinvention and looks at how to find new meaning when life throws you the unexpected and undeserved.

As a change management expert and former Citigroup VP, she has spoken to clients around the globe, including Goldman Sachs, Siemens, Marriott, Verizon and the State Department. She has appeared on NBC, FOX and CBS as their go-to authority on change management.

A sought-after speaker and respected author, her persistence, determination and willingness to change are evidenced by her interests, which include downhill skiing, trapeze flying, scuba diving and ballroom dancing.

She is the consummate reinventor and champion for change. As Washington, D.C. morning news anchor Andrea Roane says, “This speaker is the prototype for how people can break from tradition and turn boredom into bliss, security into sizzle and frustration into triumphant joy.”

She will be available immediately following her presentation to sign copies of her books. Ladies and gentlemen, please welcome...Linda Crill.
